ABOUT FATHER & SON TEAM

Jim & Paul Warner

Jim Warner is a trusted guide to high achievers navigating life transitions. He's worked directly with over 2500 entrepreneurs, professional managers, and family business leaders, worldwide – often with their spouses and families – guiding them through daunting personal and inter-personal dilemmas, and helping them achieve greater self-awareness, authentic communication, more productive relationships – and more satisfying lives.

Jim's work has led him to write three books and an audio series based on high achievers' yearnings for identity, meaning, and connection.

He has been married 40 years and enjoys enriching relationships with his wife, Judy, their three adult children, and a granddaughter. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan, and is an alumnus of Harvard Business School (OPM program).

JIM
WARNER

PAUL
WARNER

Jim and Paul work together in multi-generational family dynamics helping all parties establish and sustain authentic, synergistic, relationships.

Paul Warner leads young adult retreats, focusing on authentic relationships, navigating change, and leadership development. He also coaches young adults in family enterprises who are seeking clarity on their life purpose, mission, and vision.

He guides this "rising generation" to take full responsibility for their lives.

Paul is also an experienced retreat facilitator (both executive teams and YPO forums), helping groups establish deeper authentic connections with forum members and explore personal, business, and family issues.
